

ScoMo to Bojo – How the US far-right is shaping the world

Above image by Dan Jensen from Independent Australia.

An article by Davey Heller, contributor to classconscious.org, was published in the online Australian current affairs publication, "Independent Australia", on the 8th August 2019.

The article was entitled "ScoMo to Bojo – How the US far-right is shaping the world". It explored how:

The ascension of the far-Right ScoMo and BoJo is presented as arising from an organic "populist" Right-wing movement. However, this hides the network of far-Right billionaires and state-connected political operatives co-ordinating globally to advance fascist and far-Right governments and their agenda. Brexit in 2015, Trump in 2016, Morrison in 2018 and now Johnson in 2019 are the fruition of long-standing plans.

These far-right governments are being installed because:

"A faction of the U.S. ruling class has decided the answer to the connected crisis of a struggling economy and rising social inequality domestically and declining power abroad is fascism. They are now attempting to reorganise the world to achieve this goal.

Contributors to classconscious.org are hoping to have more articles published in Independent Australia and other publications as part of our efforts to find avenues to develop socialist consciousness in broader layers of the working class. The article has been shared hundreds of times on Facebook and generated lively discussion both directly on the Independent Australia website and on Facebook.

To read the full article visit
Independent Australia